Firm sends toys for theft-hit kids

A TOY company has come to the rescue after a heartless thief stole presents intended for children spending Christmas in hospital.

Gifts worth £2,000 were taken in the callous robbery at Great Ormond Street Hospital in London. The presents had all been wrapped, ready for the young patients.

After hearing about the theft, staff at Crownhill-based firm MGA Entertainment sent a whole range of toys for the youngsters.

Managing director Andrew Laughton said: "We were deeply shocked and saddened when we heard what had happened.

"We hope that the gifts we have donated will help bring a smile to the children's faces this Christmas."

Rethink urged over parking charge rises

BY ADAM GRINSELL
adam.grinsell@mk-news.co.uk

A RETHINK has been called for over proposals to increase city centre parking charges.

As revealed by MK NEWS, parking charges are set to be raised in CMK if the current budget, proposed by the leading Conservative councillors, is agreed by the rest of the council in February.

This would see charges go up from £1.20 to £1.40 for premium 'red' spaces, and from 30p to 40p for standard 'purple' bays.

But last week the all-party Budget Review Group (BRG), which scrutinises the way money is made and spent at Milton Keynes Council, asked for a change to the proposals after meeting to discuss the plans.

Labour councillor and BRG member Nigel Long suggested the review, saying the rise would hit shops and workers who park in the city centre.

He said that an 'alternative' city centre with free parking is being created at stadiummk with MK1, and that more money could be raised if more spaces were created and the price lowered.

He told MK NEWS: "Putting the price of something up doesn't necessarily increase your income. As charges go up, people are put off coming to the centre.

"Putting prices up is not very creative, it's a bit lazy. We need to think through what it's costing people who work in the city centre, and the number of bays.

"They are not being very thoughtful or creative. It needs a proper review."

If passed the move could see income increased by £1.4million per year, which would be ring-fenced to spend on public transport.

Cllr Edith Bald, who is in charge of finances, has previously said the rise in charges is preferable to cutting other services.

Drink-drive ban for TV star Pickard

HOLLYOAKS actor Nicholas Pickard, who plays Tony Hutchinson in the TV soap, has been given a 12 month ban after admitting drink-driving.

He was also fined £850, and ordered to pay court costs of £85 and a victim surcharge of £85.

Pickard, of Widnes in Cheshire, was stopped by police for a routine check while driving his black Mercedes at Newport Pagnell services on the M1 at 1am on October 15.

He was taken to Milton Keynes police station, where a blood sample revealed 94 milligrams of alcohol in 100 milligrams of blood. The legal limit is 80 milligrams.

Appearing at Milton Keynes Magistrates' Court on Friday, the 37-year-old, who was wearing a grey three-piece suit with a white shirt and black tie, spoke only to confirm his name, age and address, and to plead guilty to driving while over the limit.

His solicitor Harriett Mather told the court: "My client wishes to express his remorse and regret, and he acknowledges he made a grave error in judgement.

"He had consumed alcohol earlier that day. He thought the alcohol had gone from his system and he apologises.

"Since October 15 the defendant has not driven, he takes this matter so seriously and he assumed that because he had been arrested he could no longer drive."

Ms Mather also asked the two presiding magistrates to take into account the fact that the alcohol found in his blood was at the 'lower end of the bracket'.

Chairman of the bench Charlotte Cashman handed Pickard a 12 month ban with a view to taking a rehabilitation course which could lower the disqualification by three months.

School is fourth most improved in country

BY ADAM GRINSELL
adam.grinsell@mk-news.co.uk

A PRIMARY school in Milton Keynes has been named as the fourth most improved in the country.

According to the latest league tables Stanton School in Bradville reached the number four spot in the Top 100 Most Improved Primary Schools.

The list includes primary schools which have seen the greatest sustained improvement over a four year period for pupils attaining the Government benchmark in their national curriculum tests, known as SATs.

The Department of Education data shows the number of pupils at Stanton School achieving level four in English and maths has increased from 43 per cent in 2009 to 92 per cent in 2012 – a 49 per cent overall improvement.

Headteacher Helen Nicholson said: "This fantastic achievement is down to the hard work, dedication and commitment of every member of staff, the governing body and most importantly the children and parents of Stanton School.

"We are all immensely proud of our progress."

When Miss Nicholson took over as headteacher five years ago data confirmed the children were leaving the school with well below average levels in reading, writing and maths.

In response the school introduced reading and maths programmes, and these along with carefully planned lessons for all curriculum subjects with a focus on writing, have seen attainment and standards improve dramatically.

Stanton School also offers a vast range of extra curricular activities and sports clubs. The school has recently achieved the Arts Mark Silver and Sing Up Silver awards and is currently going for Gold in both.

Transformation: MK NEWS helped brighten up the arson hit club and, inset, how it looked after the fire

Fire hit club gets new look

A YOUTH club which was left in ruins after an arson attack has unveiled a bright new look thanks to MK NEWS, an army of volunteers and paint company Dulux.

Children were left in tears after the attack in April at the Springfield Initiative club, but MK NEWS swung into action to help.

We referred the club to Dulux's Let's Colour project, which offers free paint, and volunteers to do the work, to worthy causes.

Bright shades of lilac, green and blue were used to completely transform the ruined and smoke damaged building, putting a smile back on the children's faces.

Youth worker Carlos Williams said: "It has made us all so happy and we couldn't be more grateful."

MKNEWS BRIEFS

Board selects chair

AN INDEPENDENT chairman has been selected for the board that will oversee new land assets being transferred to Milton Keynes Council. John Duggan, a resident of 30 years and former chairman of The Parks Trust, takes on the helm of the Milton Keynes Development Partnership, which will guide the development of land transferred to the council from central Government in January.

Library's 50th bash

BLETCHLEY Library celebrated its 50th birthday last Monday. Mayor Catriona Morris joined longstanding members and staff at the library, and cut a birthday cake in celebration of its 1962 birth.

'Cinderella' visits primary pupils

CINDERELLA panto star and TV presenter Anna Williamson visited Monkston Primary School last week at the launch of a new initiative by charity ChildLine.

The national charity has launched a new programme to visit every primary school in the UK by 2016 to help children's understanding of abuse and how they can stay safe.

And Anna, who is currently starring in Milton Keynes Theatre's Xmas panto and is herself a ChildLine counsellor, visited the school last Monday to help launch the plan.

She said: "It's been great to be able to visit the children and teachers at Monkston Primary."

Students raise £6,300 for bed

STUDENTS at Shenley Brook End School have raised £6,300 for a new maternity bed at Milton Keynes Hospital.

Three of the leading students from the school council, Elise Elsworth, Ross Holohan and Charlotte Wright, helped present the cheque. MK Hospital sees nearly 4,000 babies born there each year, and it was a happy return for Laura and some of the students as they had been born at the hospital.

Carolyn Rooth, consultant midwife, received the cheque.

A gift: Goalie Ian McLoughlin gets in the festive spirit handing out presents to children's ward patients

BY ADAM GRINSELL
adam.grinsell@mk-news.co.uk

FIRST team players and MK Dons staff spread festive cheer with their annual Christmas visit to the children's ward at Milton Keynes Hospital last Thursday.

David Martin, Mathias Kouo-Doumbe, Ian McLoughlin, Daniel Powell and Tom Flanagan as well as goalkeeping coach Paul Heald all delivered presents to the kids on the ward, while second-year scholars Mason Spence and Charlie Burns were also on hand.

Every year all the MK Dons players and first team staff put their hands into their pockets to raise money for the gifts for the visit. Toys'R'Us then help the club to buy the presents, offering a discount.

The first team and academy players spent time talking to the parents, children and nurses while the gifts such as scooters, sensory toys, dolls and cars went down a treat.

Goalie Martin said: "It's great to go out and see what a difference you can make at this time of year. It's good and it's bad at the same time visiting here. Obviously it's humbling to hear what the parents and the kids are going through but also then to come here and give them presents and have a chat – you can't put a price on it.

"I'm looking at my mum at the moment getting ready for Christmas and she's stressed, and then to have kids that aren't very well and in hospital on top of that must be a nightmare. We should all be very grateful for our health and our families and I just wish everyone here all the best."

A group including Paul Heald, Mick Harford and second-year scholars also visited Willen Day Hospice on Wednesday to help out with the Christmas lunch there.

Historic transfer moves closer

THE historic transfer of assets from the Homes and the Communities Agency (HCA) to Milton Keynes Council moved a vital step forward last week.

The laying of a Statutory Instrument in Parliament, the penultimate step towards the transfer of powers between the two bodies, took place on Tuesday.

Under the new package of measures Milton Keynes Council will take over full control of planning decisions in the area, as well as management of land previously held by the HCA, such as The Bowl.

This means that for the first time in the history of the new city, planning powers will be solely in the hands of the local authority.

Previously Government bodies have also had control over some parcels of land, but that will now cease.

The final transfer will take place next month, with the new powers expected to come into force on January 14.

Council leader Andrew Geary said: "The laying of the Statutory Instrument before Parliament means we are now very close to the culmination of almost two years of fruitful negotiations and it is great news for the people of Milton Keynes that we are only now one step away from truly being the masters of our own destiny.

"For the first time since its inception in 1967 all development control powers will fall to one body via the elected members at Milton Keynes Council. This is truly localism in action."

The public is looking for honesty, not spin

SIR – For the second week I see Cllr Nigel Long has felt it necessary to write to you, ('Don't Play Politics with Jobs and Businesses', MK LETTERS, December 12), in an attempt to have a serious debate about the long term impact of the Government position on Europe.

Again he has resorted to quoting a plethora of figures about how large the European market is, Gross Domestic Product and how many jobs depend on Europe. All of these are totally out of date. I was reading these figures back in 2005. He should know that the voting public view any figures with suspicion. And figures quoted by anyone from the Labour party, which after 13 years in office left the country on the point of bankruptcy to such an extent that our children will still be paying off the debt in middle age, is an avenue of debate that all Labour Party members should steer well clear of.

In Cllr Long's latest letter he stated 'the jobs of workers in MK and local business are in danger'. I have to agree with this. But it's not just 'because of the Tory and UKIP hostility towards Europe', it's because of over a decade of Labour's ill thought out policies and total mismanagement of the public purse coupled with the current Government's almost suicidal tendency to ignore everything that matters to the people of this country.

UKIP is now the fastest growing political party in this country, ask yourself why. Can it be that the public want to vote for honesty and not spin?

Stuart Moore
Chairman, UKIP Milton Keynes Branch

We love the outdoor market – so keep it!

SIR – I have been a resident of Milton Keynes for more years than I care to remember and also work in CMK. I can remember a time when CMK Shopping Centre had a butcher, a baker (how I loved Geo Ort and Sons' mince pies!) although admittedly not a candlestick maker! We also of course had an indoor market.

Over the years though, locals have seen the shopping centre become generic, a replica of all other shopping centres. We've lost all of the above, we've also lost the free parking and we may now lose our much loved outdoor market.

We have lived without Primark in MK since MK was built. Do we now need two Primark stores within ten minutes of one another? Why not let them develop the land vacated by Wyevale Garden Centre opposite Xscape and provide free underground parking just like Sainsbury's?

Leave the outdoor market where it is, we love it and we want it.

Donna Weeks
Shenley Church End

Demolishing bridge is not the answer

SIR – I was very interested to read the letter by Helen Black ('Think carefully before deciding on Primark', MK LETTERS, December 12).

It makes sense for all as far as I can see – move Primark to the Waitrose/Sainsbury's spot and leave the bridge alone. It would still allow the city to grow, develop and keep the theatre district from becoming a complete ghost area,

I understand that the city has to keep up with the times and keep developing, but I am afraid it's not by demolishing the Secklow Gate bridge.

This is very short-sighted indeed. I am not a person to comment on issues like this as normally I am easy going and just want to get on with my own life. But look around the city and if anything it's the Waitrose/old Sainsbury's area that needs to be developed and not the suggested space, or can't anybody in the planning team see this? If not we need a new team.

I love the city and the way it has grown. I have been living in MK since 1981 and have seen many changes. The majority good ones. This is not one. We must protect the city centre and be very careful on how it is going to be developed for the future along with our working grid system.

More views on Primark in CMK

You can find more comments on www.mk-news.co.uk

The main arguments have never been about whether Primark is a good or bad store to have in CMK but simply about where. In favour are those who see some financial benefit for their own companies, shareholders and fund managers. Whilst they have produced some glossy marketing purporting to show what they believe is an improvement on the current architecture and landscaping, I think it would be more accurate to describe the new plans in the words used by Prince Charles, as a "monstrous carbuncle on the face of a much-loved and elegant friend". If this application succeeds it will be because of self-interest not common interest and the politicians who acquiesce or stand idly by need not pretend that they're acting in the interests of the local community, ratepayers or the electorate.

Primgate

I think that the development should be taken seriously and that it should be judged on its merits – which include jobs, development and greater infrastructure.

Big Potatoes

Jon Brett's City Life

His column written exclusively for MK NEWS

From cage fights to The Point – what a year!

THIS being the time of year for reflection, I thought I'd look back at some of this year's columns.

Some articles have given people the needle, particularly my expose on the number of tattoo parlours in Milton Keynes. The craze of being "inked" seems to be going from strength to strength with yet more parlours than ever opening in MK.

Some articles packed a punch – especially the feature on cage fighting entrepreneur Darren Ward who hosts mixed martial arts fights in his caged ring in Bradwell Abbey.

As a former Stantonbury student, I joined the debate about whether the students should now have to wear a uniform. My initial thoughts were it didn't do me any harm not wearing a uniform. But I now question whether this was the start of a decline in education standards and respect which is partly to blame for the mess this country is in.

Other talking points included the future of The Point; the need for better local public transport; canal boating; conspiracy theories; model building and take-aways. No other column in a Milton Keynes newspaper has such diverse topics.

Music however is a recurring theme. Reviews of the likes of 10cc and Neil Sedaka appeared with up-to-the-minute exclusives with boy band Union J.

It is a real privilege to write for MK NEWS, and I enjoy the feedback from people who stop and talk as I walk through the city centre.

I'd like to take this opportunity to wish all my readers a very happy and prosperous New Year.

Don't forget, you can follow me on Twitter @jon_brett or email me directly at jonbrettuk@hotmail.com.

Petition delivered to Downing Street

BY ADAM GRINSELL
adam.grinsell@mk-news.co.uk

THE campaign to have glass banned from late bars and nightclubs across the UK reached Downing Street last week as a petition was delivered to the Government.

And Minister for Local Government Brandon Lewis has now pledged to look at the current legislation after a seven-year fight by campaign group Pop.

It was launched by the parents of Milton Keynes man Blake Golding who was badly injured following an attack with a glass bottle at a late-night venue on Christmas Eve 2004.

He lost four pints of blood and is now permanently scarred on his face and neck.

Blake, along with mum Marjorie and dad Robert, have so far collected more than 115,000 signatures on their petition, 2,500 of which were presented at Downing Street.

Marjorie said: "After seven long years of hard work, determination and travelling around the country working with police, councils and venues, we've finally made a huge leap forward.

"We hope it will result in the transition to polycarbonate glasses and PET bottles in late night bars and clubs, saving lives, injuries and millions of pounds in taxpayers money."

Glass ban: Members of the campaign at the gates of Downing Street before handing in a petition which has more than 100,000 signatures

If successful the campaign would see the banning of glass in all city centre venues which sell alcohol after 11pm.

Pop-campaign has been fully supported by Mark Lancaster, MP for Milton Keynes North, who accompanied Marjorie, Robert and Blake to Downing Street along with police officers, family members and friends.

Mr Lancaster said: "I'm delighted that having repeatedly raised this in the Commons over many years, the Minister has committed to having an internal review of existing legislation to see whether it could be evolved to allow for greater proactive rather than reactive use. It's a great step forward for the campaign."

Ten years for knife robber

BY DAN PALMER
dan.palmer@mk-news.co.uk

A VIOLENT thug who stabbed one of his victims so severely that he required surgery has been jailed for ten years.

Police said that the violence 19-year-old Reece Twena used during his attacks was 'unnecessary and over the top' after he was caged for a decade at Aylesbury Crown Court.

Twena, from Granby Court, Granby, admitted two counts of robbery and one attempted robbery.

His first offence took place on a bus which was travelling through Coffee Hall towards Oldbrook at 3.45pm on November 12.

After sitting behind a 17-year-old boy, Twena typed a message into his own phone which read 'give me your phone before you get off the bus or you will be stabbed'.

He showed the victim who gave him the phone back, but Twena repeated his threat verbally and the victim then handed his phone over.

Locked up: Reece Twena

The second incident, an attempted robbery, took place on December 3 at 8.20am when Twena approached a 21-year-old man who was walking down Watling Street in Bletchley.

He demanded the man's phone, but the victim fought back and hit Twena, who responded by stabbing him twice in the stomach. Nothing was stolen but the victim suffered a broken rib and damage to his intestine which required surgery.

The next incident took place the following day and was also on a bus, this time one which was travelling from Central Milton Keynes.

As the bus neared Peartree bridge, Twena demanded the phone belonging to a 19-year-old man, before trying to stab him with a knife in the leg and torso.

The victim suffered a small cut to the leg and Twena attempted to steal two phones from him.

However, he dropped one after a struggle with members of the public from which he escaped.

PC Christopher Bigg, from Milton Keynes CID, said: "I am pleased with the sentence handed out to Twena.

"It reflects the seriousness of his offences and the completely unnecessary and over the top violence."

Plaque to honour Greg's MK roots

BY DAN PALMER
dan.palmer@mk-news.co.uk

GREG Rutherford returned to the place where his long jump story began last week – to unveil a plaque in his honour and to pay tribute to his home club.

The Ginger Wizard made the city and country proud when he won Olympic gold at London 2012. But he couldn't have done it without the help and guidance he received as a child from MK Athletic Club's coaches at Stantonbury Stadium.

His plaque, mounted on the club's pavilion, is part of a Sport England initiative to recognise where the success story started. It says 'Olympic gold medallist Greg Rutherford began his journey to the London 2012 games here'.

While at the unveiling, the 26-year-old took time to coach local youngsters as part of the search for another Milton Keynes-born Olympian.

He also got the chance to catch up with club chairman Mick Bromilow and his old coach Rick Townsend, both of whom remember Greg from his youth.

"It's weird seeing my name put up on things," Rutherford told MK NEWS after the ceremony.

Honour: Greg Rutherford with his plaque at Stantonbury Stadium where he began the journey to gold medal success at London 2012

"After all these years of sacrifice and working really hard, the club where I started off is still fully behind me and that's such an important thing.

"For the youngsters coming through and the members of the club, they can see how well it can go if you're persistent and work really hard.

"Hopefully, going forward, we'll see some more plaques put up on this building with other names of other Milton Keynes stars who can come through."

Rutherford knows that if just one child inspired by him makes it big then his job of promoting the London legacy is complete.

"Just the fact that I'm hearing that kids want to do the long jump, and that people are excited by the sport in general is huge," he said.

Mr Bromilow added: "I still remember when Greg first turned up with his Dad."

For news of Greg's aspirations in 2013 see sport.

Stantonbury victory in schools' debates

AFTER a long competition the winners of this year's Milton Keynes schools debates contest have been crowned.

Sean Westall and Ellen Tillman from Stantonbury Campus beat Sean Eaton and Charlotte Herbert from St Paul's Catholic School at the final at Westminster on Wednesday night. It is the second time in a row that Stantonbury has taken the title.

The debate was organised by MK MPs Iain Stewart and Mark Lancaster. Judges included Adam Grinsell from MK NEWS.

71 parking fines will be cancelled

BY ADAM GRINSELL
adam.grinsell@mk-news.co.uk

A TOTAL of 71 parking fines are to be cancelled or repaid by Milton Keynes Council for residents in one city estate.

Resident drivers in Kirkstall Place in Oldbrook and surrounding roads will have £30 tickets rescinded or refunded after a review of parking.

Drivers were landed with the fines as attendants felt they were causing damage to verges or causing an obstruction to pedestrians and other road users.

But being next to the city centre, shoppers and workers park in the estate to avoid paying.

A spokesman said: "The council recognises in this particular area parking is at a premium owing to its close proximity to the city centre and additional pressure is placed on this area with non-residents using it as an area of free parking.

"After reviewing this particular situation and recognising warning notices had not previously been issued, we will cancel or refund the 71 tickets. We will continue to enforce the regulations to ensure parking is considerate and non-obstructive."

Ward councillor Paul Williams, who raised the issue with the council, said: "My role is to stick up for residents when the council gets it wrong. They got it badly wrong issuing a number of parking penalty notices. I am pleased they have cancelled the fines and will be adopting a more flexible approach in the future."

The council could not confirm how much this will cost.

Xmas misery as floods hit

BY JESSICA DUNCAN
editor@mk-news.co.uk

FLOODING has affected areas across Milton Keynes with the Environment Agency issuing a warning for Newport Pagnell after the Great River Ouse burst its banks.

Silver Street, Riverside, Tongwell Lane and Lovat Caravan Park, to the east of the Ouse, were all hit.

As MK NEWS went to press on Christmas Eve officials said that the river levels at Newport Pagnell had now peaked, although more rain has been forecast.

Newport Pagnell shop owner Lynn King, of Laura Lloyd Nail Salon on St John Street, said: "All my customers have come in as it's very important to get your nails done before Christmas, even if you have to come in waders!

"It is only bad if you're living in and around the river, although it was exceptionally quiet in the town on Sunday."

Flood waters: Newport Pagnell is worst hit after the Great River Ouse burst its banks following heavy rain

Flooding is set to continue affecting Milton Keynes, with the area being issued an 'amber warning' by the Met Office over Christmas.

A Bucks Fire Service spokesman said: "If the rain persists there may be some local roads that people will be aware of that tend to get flooded. See if you can find another way around, rather than going through.

"Up and down the country there have been some quite traumatic rescues, and it doesn't take much to float a car, just a few feet of water. Even less than that will knock you over if there's a current in it.

"We want people to be safe and happy this Christmas. In extreme weather seriously think about whether you need to make the journey."

REVIEW OF THE YEAR

From darts to kidnap

BY ADAM GRINSELL
adam.grinsell@mk-news.co.uk

IN THE next two issues of MK NEWS we will be reviewing the memorable moments in the city during 2012. Here are the first three months:

JANUARY

The year began with a world record bid for the longest darts match played by two people, as Gary Osborne and Pete Hares stepped up to the oche for 39 hours in memory of their friend Paolo Sicorello, who passed away the year before.

There was drama at a housing development after a group of workmen found human remains – they turned out to be archaeologically significant, old bones.

Police hunted two machete gangs after families were targeted in shocking home raids, and Sultan, a horse born and bred in Milton Keynes, became world famous after appearing in blockbuster film Warhorse as Joey.

MK NEWS also launched its Sport Relief campaign – giving away £50,000 of grants to deserving causes in the area.

Pancake race victor Devon Byrne

FEBRUARY

The ringleader of a gang was jailed indefinitely for a horrific kidnap and attack, that saw two men beaten, with one having petrol poured over him. One victim was rolled up in a carpet, put into the boot of a car and driven to woods in Woolstone. Abdullah Patima, of Ramsons Avenue, Conniburrow, had his sentence reduced to three years on appeal.

On a lighter note, MK Dons made perhaps their biggest-ever signing with former Manchester United frontman Alan Smith joining on loan, which was made permanent in the summer. And former brothel madam Becky Adams released her first book.

Mum-of-six Sara Agintas made headlines after claiming a cab firm refused to take her because she was 'too fat' at 33 stone.

On February 21, 18-year-old Devon Byrne smashed the record for the fastest time in the Olney pancake race with 58.5 seconds. She followed in the footsteps of mum Lesley, who won the race on the day she discovered she was pregnant with Devon.

MARCH

Police came under fire for 'heavy-handed' tactics after a rave of some 200 revellers was broken up at a warehouse in Old Wolverton. Ravers claimed officers used CS gas and batons.

Ground was broken on the development for a new pool in Wolverton, and detectives reopened the case of a man found dead in the River Ouse 25 years ago as they exhumed a body at Fenny Stratford cemetery – the man turned out to be missing person Michael John Walsh.

Finally, 32-year-old Suresh Nahar was found guilty of the Walnut Tree murder of colleague David Law.

REVIEW OF THE YEAR

Death of an icon, the

BY DAN PALMER
dan.palmer@mk-news.co.uk

IN THE second part of our review of 2012 we look at the months April, May and June.

APRIL

The city pays tribute to Jim Marshall, the pioneer behind iconic music equipment firm Marshall Amplification, who died, aged 88, and tributes are also paid to the founder of Stantonbury Campus, Geoff Cooksey, who also passed away.

Councillors decide that the much discussed city casino will be located at Xscape.

With a little help from MK NEWS, 36 community groups are selected to receive cash through our Sport Relief programme.

A £15million plan to give Midsummer Place shopping centre a facelift is revealed, but it is announced that The Point, one of MK's iconic buildings, could be knocked down. Shortly afterwards, MK NEWS launches a campaign to preserve The Point.

Icon: Father of Loud Jim Marshall

MAY

A foster mother awoke to a nightmare scene when a teenager she was looking after tried to stab her. Even after suffering severe injuries she is not put off fostering.

Legendary MK Dons coach John Gorman announces his retirement with the team poised for a promotion push.

Woburn Sands racing driver Sandra Harrison-Moore is tragically killed in a race in Sussex.

MP Mark Lancaster voices fears that Khat, a legal drug being sold in Milton Keynes, is being used to fund terrorism. And staff at The Swan pub, in MK Village, which was almost destroyed by a fire, raise nearly £2,500 for The Fire Fighters Charity.

There's more pain for MK Dons in the play-offs as Huddersfield knock them out 3-2 on aggregate.

Nuisance neighbours in Tinkers Bridge are evicted after complaints about drug dealing and threats of violence.

And new mayor Catriona Morris declares Milton Keynes is a county as well as a city.

JUNE

The FBI is called in after an MK-based software company is targeted by computer hackers.

County of Milton Keynes signs, highlighted by MK NEWS, are taken down after just a few days.

An inquest into the deaths of a Fishermead mother and child in a 2010 fire are held, and reveal that Bola Ejifunmilayo, 29, used her last breath to tell daughter Fiyin, aged three, 'I love you.' The coroner later rules that there are lessons to be learnt.

A proposal to close Broughton Gate skatepark results in a threat from children to chain themselves to railings. The park was saved.

Bletchley Park is boosted by a £7.4million funding package.

Read the stories in full at www.mk-news.co.uk. Next week we review July-December 2012.

Deniece delivers a Five Star performance in panto

FIVE Star's Deniece Pearson is taking a different turn as she spreads a little glitter and magic as the Fairy Godmother in Cinderella at MK Theatre.

"It's wonderful," said Deniece. "Each show is different. But one thing stays the same. Families coming together for lots of fun and laughter. It's so heart-warming.

"It's my first panto and so fantastic to be part of such a great British tradition. I'm really enjoying myself. The cast and crew are amazing. We're halfway through the run and I will miss them all hugely when the show ends in January. It's such fun!

Deniece is no stranger to the stage. After chart-topping fame with 80s family group Five Star and years in America writing songs and raising a family, in 2009 she made a name for herself appearing in the West End Michael Jackson tribute Thriller – Live.

She was then encouraged by a friend to take part in TV talent show The Voice.

"It was something new and I thought it was a great way to reintroduce Five Star to 11million people who watched the show."

You can see Deniece in Cinderella at MK Theatre until January 6. She stars with Louis Spence, Anna Williamson and Kev Orkian.

WOBURN Safari Park ranger Bob Streatfeild this week talks about his passion for elephants

AS WE are now well into the winter season I've been spending more time supporting the keepers and particularly the elephant team for two days a week.

This involves a lot of mucking out, cleaning the elephant house, bathing the elephants and food preparation.

Elephants have long been my favourite animals, going back to my childhood in India when I would see them in the wild and also used for industry and transport. I first worked with elephants in 1977 and today I'm privileged to help the elephant keepers with Chandrika, Damini, Yu Zin and Raja, our four Asian elephants at Woburn Safari Park.

Elephants have a very trusting nature and are very responsive, allowing a much greater level of interaction, compared to say lions or tigers. They are highly intelligent and an adult can have a similar IQ to a young child of seven. Keepers can therefore form a real bond with these loveable and inquisitive animals.

As it gets colder and the days shorter, the elephants spend a bit more time in their fantastic state-of-the-art house. The keepers work hard to keep the elephants stimulated, by using the many and varied food compartments. These are custom designed to make the elephants work harder to get to their food, allowing them to graze more slowly, as they would in the wild.

LOADS of families enjoy a trip to the cinema around Christmas and Jack Reacher, Tom Cruise's latest film, is one of the exciting new movies that has been released for the festive period.

It's a film based on the novel One Shot, brought to us by Lee Child, and focuses on the events which follow the killings of five people by a sniper.

Cruise plays the title character who begins to look into the case, and he naturally unravels a web of complexities along the way. Worth a go for some post-Xmas big screen action.

filmchoices

TWO very different films are being shown at MK Gallery this week.

This evening there is the chance to see Handmade Nation, which is about the world of arts, crafts and design.

Director Faythe Levine travelled to 15 cities and covered more than 19,000 miles to interview various artists, and it's free from 6.30pm.

Tomorrow's Friday Night Film is cult classic The Goonies.

Tickets are £5 or £3 for concessions and there's a 7pm start. Call 01908 676900 for more details.

No wonder you ♥ paper

Did you know that forests in Europe, which provide wood for making into paper and many other widely used materials, are 30% larger than in 1950? In fact they're increasing by 1.5 million football pitches every year.†

If you love reading your favourite newspaper, isn't it good to know that it's made from natural and renewable wood.

Two Sides is an industry initiative to promote the responsible use of print and paper as a uniquely powerful and natural communications medium.
